"I looked for a place where I could feel important. A place where they address me by my first name. A place where I feel comfortable knocking on doors because I know there will always be someone there to answer me. A place that wasn't crowded and gave me the space I needed to conduct my research in comfort. A place that was committed to seeing me cross the finish line, not only with my degree, but with memories to last a lifetime. I found that place at Bond."
